Oxygen Font is a new typeface family being developed for use with the Free Desktops and GUIs on phones, tablets, laptops, workstations and TV's.

The aim of designing the Oxygen fonts is to create a new, high quality font family for the GNU/Linux communities and to expand the choice of fonts suitable for use with Free Software desktops and graphical interfaces.

The Oxygen fonts are designed to be used and shared without restriction, for any purpose, by anyyone.

The fonts are published under both the Open Font License and the Gnu Public License. These licenses ensure that the fonts can be used, shared, and altered freely, by everyone.
